President's Message

September 2019

Hello Quilting Ladies!

I hope you attended our August meeting. The speaker was fabulous and I was inspired to try to preserve some of MY heritage in a quilt. She gave us many good ideas and even suggested the names of other speakers who might come to share their talents also.

Don't miss our September meeting when there will be various tables where you can learn a Christmas crafty idea. Then in October you can join in the fun & make some for yourself! Also in October, Veronica has asked us to bring a crafty and useful gadget that you found and can't live without. Share it with the rest of us. We like gadgets too!

I will not join you in September. I am taking a short trip to Houston to see the baptism of two of my precious granddaughters and the 5th birthday of one of them. I need to dress up and welcome the little girls as the "Fairy Grandmother." Sue Whitney as our Vice President for Membership will conduct the meeting. See you in October.

Love to all of you and keep sewing.

Mary

Beginners Class

We will meet at 11:30 for our final class which will cover finishing your quilt. Please bring your finished blocks with you so we can lay them out and you can decide what arrangement you like. Please plan to come even if you don't have blocks finished. There will be a lot of hints on borders, bindings and how to get your quilt top ready to send to the quilter if you don't choose to quilt it yourself. See you there.

BOOK REVIEWS

by our Librarian - Marge Weismantel

Welcome Home (New Edition) by Kaffe Fassett

Kaffe Fassett, the author of Welcome Home, is an American artist, well known for his beautiful and colorful work in painting, fabric, patchwork quilting, needlework, knitting and mosaic. His work was once the subject of a one man show at the Victoria and Albert Museum in London. In Welcome Home, Kaffe highlights items in his home such as old textiles, china pots, tin boxes and beaded bags that have inspired many of his design ideas. One section of the book contains exclusive photographs of Kaffe's one man exhibition on fabric design in the Minneapolis Institute of Art. Welcome Home also includes directions for a number of home projects, such as quilts and rugs, that all reflect Kaffe's unique sense of color and design. All projects have directions and patterns.

Improv Paper Piercing by Amy Friend

Amy Friend shows how to create improvised blocks through a new technique-based approach that incorporates creative design with technical precision. She accomplishes this through the use of ten guided exercises that demonstrate how to design unique improvised paper piercing patterns. Ultimately, these techniques result in a one-of-a-kind quilt of repeated blocks. There are complete instructions in the book along with templates for ten beautiful quilts. The author also makes a point to encourage the reader to design their own quilt by utilizing the techniques demonstrated in the book.

Material Girls ‘Retreat’

Submitted by Kate Holdgreve

The noun definition of Retreat is an “act of moving back or withdrawing” and that’s just about what we do when we leave for our annual January retreat in Fredericksburg, VA. We are withdrawing from our daily routines and obligations at home, retreating to a place where we can freely do what we all love to do – sit and quilt ALL DAY long with no interruptions. So good for the soul, at least for this group of 8 friends who love to quilt together! We have been doing this week long retreat for 15 years! We haven’t missed a year. We began this adventure at a condo at Massanutten Resort, then rented a house for a couple of years in the same area. Sharon’s daughter has a vacation home on the Potomac River in the Stafford, VA area and we enjoyed one year there. After that our group expanded and we needed a larger home. Janie found us a great house to rent at Lake of the Woods near Fredericksburg. After a couple of years there, we found an even better location at Lake of the Woods and have been there for nine years! There is loads of space and the home is on a lake so we feel right at home! Sadly 2020 will be our last year there, the owners are putting that home on the market sometime next year. It should be about a 4 hour drive but we always stop at the Cottonwood Quilt Shop in Charlottesville and then lunch before heading to the house thus increasing the time it actually takes to get there!

We all seem to have a lot of Unfinished Projects to work on or new projects we would like to begin. We find we are even more productive if we have all of our projects cut out ahead of time. We often have charity projects we are able to put together during this group sew time. We have made quilts for the Discovery Shop, Alzheimer Association, SML Good Neighbors to name a few. We also made over 50 pillowcases for Chemo patients in hospitals.

Occasionally we do a group project. The one that generated a lot of very pretty quilts was the Friendship Triangle exchange from Edyta Sitar’s book “Friendship Triangles”. We had hundreds of half square triangles we each made, dumped on the table and then took out as many as we each put in the pile. Such fun. This year we each made about 20 strip sets (measuring about 11”x22”) from Kaffe Fasset fabrics and exchanged them at retreat. The challenge is to make a quilt of some sort and our efforts will be revealed at our 2020 retreat.

We take turns preparing dinner, often working in teams of two. We have had excellent dinners with delicious desserts and always look forward to a few standards. Sharon does a wonderful turkey breast in the crockpot, Cindy has a wonderful pasta sauce we often try to get her to make. Mary Stuart makes us wonderful shortbread cookies. While delicious, we do try keep the food simple. We like to keep kitchen time down to a minimum. With leftovers we can always count on Marcia to come up with a delicious soup for future lunches!! Adult beverages seem to have declined as we have aged but they still take up plenty of room in the bar area. Breakfast and lunch are always an “on your own” event. We have been very lucky to have a Food Lion right across the street! We always have a shopping day in the middle of the week and visit the wonderful Crazy Cousins quilt shop not too far from our house and we enjoy lunch out and some make a trip to the local COSCO

We look forward to many more annual retreats!

Charity Report

The stack of donated fabric in our closet at Trinity Ecumenical Parish has greatly diminished, thanks to members at our August meeting. Notions, patterns, and fabric from our latest donations were organized and put into appropriate storage containers and sent home with wonderful ladies who volunteered fellow bee members to make bibs, bags of hope and finish quilt kits. Look for a bin with the attractive bib pattern and donated fabric at our September meeting. We will have a walker and two wheelchair bag patterns, as well as some very attractive home decor fabrics to replenish the containers that were "checked out" in August. The large container of fidget quilt fixings (metal buttons, plastic zippers, keys, large rick-rack, ruffles, heavily textured lace, buckles, embroidered patches - lots of fun stuff!) was taken to CS's for the pizza party on Saturday, September 14th. Of course we received more notions to resupply that container. Until our meeting, happy sewing.
